Webcast Expands Conference Reach

For the first time, Compostmodern will be webcast live and will be available for 90 days following, encouraging online participation and satellite events at AIGA chapters and educational institutions everywhere.

About Compostmodern

Compostmodern is fertile ground for sustainability. Presented by the San Francisco chapter of AIGA and the AIGA Center for Sustainable Design (CFSD), this interdisciplinary conference explores the range of design thinking necessary to create a socially and ecologically responsible society. Designers, manufacturers and business leaders come together to find inspiration, share knowledge and explore real world opportunities for transforming products, industries and lives.

About the Center for Sustainable Design

The AIGA Center for Sustainable Design is dedicated to providing designers with a wide range of information regarding sustainable business practices. Through case studies, interviews, resources and discourse, the Center encourages and supports designers as they incorporate sustainable thinking into their professional lives.

AIGA San Francisco

The San Francisco Chapter of AIGA, the professional association for design, represents over 1,400 designers, illustrators and artists in the Greater Bay Area.
